

Full-time position as a Director of Family Ministries or an Associate Pastor for Family Ministries

About us

First Presbyterian Church in Boise, Idaho, located in the vibrant downtown area, is hiring a full-time staff member to lead ministry programs for children, youth, and families. Boise has a vibrant downtown, and we are located next to Boise High School and the central YMCA, in a neighborhood booming with high-density family-oriented residential development. We seek to develop ministries that will share God's love with families, children, and the city's youth, so there are lots of opportunities for an energetic and passionate individual to develop great programs!

In the aftermath of COVID, when we had to radically re-imagine what it meant to minister to people where they were, we've enthusiastically taken this opportunity to build a new vibrant youth ministry without the baggage of "But we've always done it this way!" Our many willing volunteers are the raw material of a powerful and effective ministry, and our current programs are successful, but as the Bible says, "without vision the people perish." We seek a leader called to this work whose passion for youth and children's ministry can help our volunteers make the most of their gifts.

We are a progressive church, and, following Jesus' example, we work to love and support those on society's margins, and concentrate our local mission giving on organizations that help people with housing, food insecurity, domestic violence, or other stressors. We are known for being inclusive: truly, all are welcome at.
